Noah's Milestones Story

told by Noah's mom, Lauren

My son Noah began his therapy journey when he was nine months old due to a gross motor delay. At the age of 15 months, he received a diagnosis of spastic quadriplegic cerebral palsy, which brought multiple challenges—gross and fine motor delays, speech delays, and difficulties with oral motor function. I can wholeheartedly attest to the pivotal role that Milestones Center for Child Development has played in Noah's remarkable progress and development.

The minute we walk in the door, the warm and welcoming smiles of Rita and Monica in the front office are a constant source of support. They engage in easy, friendly conversation and are always available to assist with scheduling and insurance needs.

Every step of the way through Noah's comprehensive array of therapies, the dedicated Milestones therapists have consistently demonstrated exceptional kindness, support, and an unwavering commitment to delivering top-notch, individualized care. His progress has exceeded expectations and met his personalized goals in all areas, a testament to the hard work and dedication of these therapists.

For the past 3 1/2 years, Dani Jasso, DPT, has been Noah's physical therapist. She has gone above and beyond to create a safe and enjoyable environment for his therapy sessions. Dani's remarkable attentiveness to Noah's unique needs, the wealth of knowledge she shares during treatment sessions, and her unwavering support to our family have made a world of difference. She is a natural coach, consistently offering encouragement, and, I can genuinely say ...Noah looks forward to and loves every therapy session with her.

From the friendly front office staff to all the dedicated therapists, Milestones holds a special place in our family's heart thanks to the dedication shown to Noah's needs.

This feel-good story is just one of many to come from Milestones each and every day. To find out more about Milestones, call one of our two locations, or visit ... pvhmc.org/milestones
